

Date: 27th April, 2023

To,
The Visa Officer,
High Commission of Canada,
New Delhi, India

Subject: Statement of Purpose for the Student Visa Application for MBA program in University Canada West, Vancouver, Canada.

Name: [REDACTED]

Student No: [REDACTED]

IELTS: 6.5

Speaking -6	Writing – 6.5	Reading – 7.5	Listening - 6
-------------	---------------	---------------	---------------

Pre-Paid Tuition Fee: CAD 23,910

Academic Qualification (Degrees): Bachelor in Science (Physics) with 64.28%
Masters in Science (Physics) with 59.20%

Respected Sir/ Madam

I am grateful to introduce myself as [REDACTED], (Passport Number: [REDACTED]) born on 11 June, 1987 as the eldest son of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. I am the permanent resident of Tulsipur Sub-Metropolitan City, Ward No. 06, Dang, Nepal. I live together with my father, mother, younger brother, my wife and my son. I would like to introduce myself as a curious, competent and farsighted student. I have applied to University Canada West, Vancouver and have been accepted to pursue Masters in Business Administration program. I, now provide my statement of purpose for student visa application.

It is irrefutable that, in this era, science and management can never be the two distinct and diverse fields and it is obvious that they closely correlate with each other. In fact, the brief academic exposure that I received to management during my 10 years of teaching profession in the higher secondary schools helped me understand these are the two sides of the same coin which cannot exist without anchoring on each other. During these years I got a responsibility to look after the schools account as an accountant for one and half years. Later on, school team hired an experienced accountant in the related field as I was from non-business academic stream and then I started my career in teaching field. During these years, beside academic profession, I had a significant experience of working as a treasurer in the community forest conservation committee for one year. These experiences really helped me to know my ability in the management of resources and in the development of leadership apart from interest in teaching. I am also working as a member of agricultural cooperative limited here in Dang, ward no-10, Tulsipur, Nepal. After all, I am no more interested in this teaching field as I am, nowadays, more inclined towards business sectors, shares and investments.

My further academic exploits helped me learn that management practices and strategies are also important in the academic field to become more successful and be efficient. As a matter of fact, during my teaching profession of Physics, Mathematics and Statistics, I got a new experience that I can quickly correlate every topics to the various dimensions of the management. During my tenure as a secondary level coordinator, I got to meet the different levels of leadership skills and managing the resources to analyze and solve the problems. So, I understood that expanding my managerial and leadership capabilities will help me lead projects and teams better to improve the performance of the team as well as the efficiency of the project.

I believe Canadians consider great importance on practical learning, and have developed a first-rate education system with very high standards. Not only will it enhance my academic skills and provide me adequate knowledge through a dynamic curriculum, but also expose me to students from all over the world. Therefore, in order to develop and mold these important managerial skills, I decided to secure admission for MBA from University Canada West, which has sophisticated infrastructure, research and library facilities, study resources, community and career development program because of which my journey towards a gratifying career can be successful.

When it comes to my academic achievement, I have always been a keen learner of both the pragmatic and theoretical aspects of the subject that I learned. It has always helped me look for various sources for learning that support me to perform well. In addition to being an active and fast learner, I never ran away from the opportunities that I received to participate in various extracurricular and co-curricular activities. These learning experiences in both leadership and organizing capacities have always been helpful to me build up my personality as well as expand my communication, interpersonal, decision making and leadership skills. I am extremely positive that these skills will surely help me during my master program in Canada.

As I decided to pursue the MBA, I began seeking for a proper academic destination that can set me on the right path as per my career goal. I had indeed a mindset about my MBA from a foreign institute due to the focused training experiences that foreign institutes offered. While I did search for Nepalese institutes, I was disappointed to find limited industry and global learning exposure that would certainly limit the growth potential of the students. As I am trying to improve my employability in a challenging professional environment, I had a strong will to achieve the skills that the industry demands right now. Due to this fact, I realized that there is no any best option other than a foreign institute for me. After my continued efforts to find an appropriate destination for the MBA, I was convinced by the quality education, student-centric academic offerings, and highly economic provided by Canada. Moreover, Canada offers better value for my investments without compromising on global learning exposure and quality. Although such destinations could be the US, the UK and Australia, they were too expensive for me. Hence Canada became my first priority.

After a long time search for the suitable institute for the MBA, I found University Canada West more inclined to the student best performance and industry-oriented in its academic approach than most of the universities in Canada. The extensive learning infrastructure and experienced faculties of the university work together to establish an exceptional academic setting that renders the overall growth of its students. I came to know that the university provides unblemished learning opportunities to nurture the comprehensive development of the students while preparing them for the real management challenges in today's technology-driven globe. With plenty of internship and project opportunities with leading companies in Canada, the university generated an excellent academic package will support my career goals. Hence, I decided to get admission for the MBA from University Canada West

Financial support is the most important factor for a student. I have been given wholehearted support, emotionally as well as financially, by my family in my decision to study in Canada. They have strong belief that investment made in education never goes in vain. I have always received lots of love and attention from my family. They have always supported me with my ambition. My family is sole believer of "Simple living, high thinking". They have always wanted me to receive world class quality education and were concerned on saving enough funds for my higher studies. So, they have already made the arrangements to meet all the expenses of studying in Canada with saving of NRs. 6,121,000 (CAD 62,129.52) received on land sale. Along with this, my family earns NRs. 3,921,284 (CAD 39,801.91) per year. They are very excited about my plans and are ready to support my study as well as my entire expenses while living in Canada. The details of my sponsorship and financial wherewith to support my MBA in Canada are provided with the application for your assessment.

I have to return to put my learning into practice in my own country. The young generations like us need to utilize our skills and knowledge enhancing the development of country. After growing up here, we need to have responsibilities towards our country. I have my families out here in Nepal who have always supported me. I cannot just leave them behind. I cannot stay away from them for longer period of time. So, at the end of the program, I would like to return to Nepal and associate with the finance and cooperatives in a suitable managerial position or I could go for the management of the resources in the banking sectors.

Government of Nepal is more concerned with the economic growth of the country through the countrywide extension of the finance company and cooperatives. Cooperatives in Nepal offer a wide range of savings and credit, insurance, and non financial services. Their accomplishments to date in the area of socio-economic development of the members indicate that cooperatives can continue to grow as key players in the development of Nepal. Cooperatives in Nepal have been more successful to provide greater number of services to the every citizens of the country, specially, to the farmers, marginalized groups, merchants and the entrepreneurs. Moreover, Nepal Government has given more priority to these sectors with numerous facilities

Due to the above mentioned reasons, I have a strong determination and firm aim to be involved in the agricultural cooperatives. In my town area and suburbs, I want to be major and the most successful key factor in the cooperative sector. I want to play key role to help farmers achieve economies of scale in production, reduce transaction costs and associated risks, access to distant markets, and receive development services and inputs more effectively and efficiently. I would like to work in the first couple of years expanding my managerial skills while learning the machinations of the industry and imbibing effective industry insights to make myself a better with strong leadership and management capabilities. In the long-term I wish to grow in my career to more responsible and dynamic leadership roles to support the growth of my employer in every way possible along with the luxury of being with my family.

Keeping all of this in mind, I sincerely believe that I am qualified for admission to your esteemed institution, and that the MBA will provide me with the necessary skills and knowledge to give me an advantage over my competitors.

Name : [REDACTED]

Contact No. : [REDACTED]

Email : [REDACTED]